MAY BACK DOWN IN CONTROVERSY

Berlin is Believed to be Planning to Offer Concessions

NOTE IS TO GO TODAY

Missive From United States to Germany Contains Sixty-five Separate Charges

Washington, April 18.—That Germany is preparing to offer concessions to the United States in the submarine controversy is the belief which percades official Washington tonight as the President is making the final examination of this Government's new note. In some quarters this opinion already is reflected in the belief that a break with Germany will be avoided. The fact is regarded at noteworthy that this optimism does not appear to be based on the expectation that Germany will give up her submarine campaign.

It became known that the President spent five hours Sunday rewriting and emendating the note which had been prepared by Secretary of State Lansing and Counsellor Polk. The President had intended to confer with Senator Stone, chairman of the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations, yesterday, but later postponed the engagement until tomorrow. The note will be cabled to Berlin some time tomorrow.

There still is some uncertainty as to whether the note makes any new demands upon Berlin, as a result of recent submarine campaign. It is known to contain 65 indictments of the German Government for offenses against neutral rights involved in attacks upon merchant ships since last May. The majority opinion in official circles is that the President does not deem it necessary to make any new demands, inasmuch as the position of the United States respecting the fundamental principles at issue already has been fully set forth in the earlier correspondence.

The list compiled at the State Department contains the names of all the ships carrying Americans, as well as other neutral merchant ships, which have been torpedoed without warning. The Sussex case figures as an incident in the general indictment. The cumulative evidence shows how Germany has jeopardized the lives of thousands of non-combatants and many Americans who have escaped death through good luck after their ships had been torpedoed without warning.

After giving a history of submarine warfare and citing references to the communications which have passed between the Government at Washington and Berlin, the President puts the entire burden of the future relations between the two countries squarely up to the Kaiser's Government. The communication states, in effect, that the United States will tolerate no longer the activities of German submarine commanders and will accept no more excuses made by the German Foreign Office to fit the incidents.

At the German Embassy it was impossible to verify reports that Count von Bernstorff had received a new set of instructions from Berlin to guide him in handling any situation which may arise in the submarine crisis. The count is not in Washington and Prince Hatzfeldt, the acting charge, said that he was without information concerning such instructions.

It is understood to be certain that the note does not commit the United States to any definite course in the event that Germany fails to submit proposals satisfactory to the United States, and that, in effect, it postpones until the receipt of the German reply the necessity for a final decision by this Government as to the course to be adopted.

Many well-informed students of the international situation find it difficult to picture what concessions it would be possible for Germany to make to the United States which could avoid a break. Indeed, since members of the Cabinet have frankly indicated the opinion that Germany has not acted in good faith in carrying out the assurances already given, it is difficult to see how we can accept future assurances as being given in good faith.

WILSON'S NOTE TO GERMANY

Said to be Virtually an Ultimatum on the Submarine Issue

Washington, April 18—President Wilson's note to Germany, which is virtually an ultimatum on the submarine issue, is completed and ready to be cabled.

The fact that it will not be sent until after the President has conferred with Senator Stone, chairman of the Foreign Relation Committee, this morning clearly indicates its serious tenor.

It serves notice on German that compliance with the President's implied demands are essential for the maintenance of friendly relations between the two governments.

No secret is made of the fact that the note is a decisive step by the United States, which may mean the severance of dipomatic relations with Germany inside of two weeks. It is fully realized that it may even lead to war.

But the President is said to be determined to obtain recognition of the rights of humanity on the high seas at whatever cost. He gives Germany one last chance to realize this. Upon Germany's reply to the note will depend the whole issue.

PURSUIT IS CHECKED

Nothing Definite Learned Concerning Finding of Villa's Body.

El Paso, April 18.—The Villa hunt today is a secondary matter. Concentration of troops to prevent renewal of attacks such as that at Parral and the guarding of lines of communication is now the main thing.

Brigadier Gen. Pershing is understood to have made a report to that effect to Major Gen. Funston.

The question whether the body, presumebly being taken into Chihuahua City, is that of Villa is still holding attention, but the safety of the American expedition, following the Parral incident and the withdrawal request from Gen. Carranza is uppermost in the minds of army chiefs along the border.

While the failure of the Mexicans to produce the body for identification by Americans has increased skepticism, the delay may be due to natural causes, such as slow means of transportation. It is also pointed out that the Carranza officials may themselves be victims of a hoax.

Reports from Pershing's headquarters say that Maj. Frank Tompkins received a written threat from Gen. Lozano, commander of the Carranza garrison at Parral, that the American troops would be attacked if they advanced to the city. According to the same officers, the fight at Parral was the result of treachery, Major Tompkins' men being ambushed by soldiers of the Parral garrison.

DOROTHY ARNOLD CASE

Convict in Rhode Island State Prison Says He Helped to Bury Young Woman

Providence, R. I., April 18—Edward C. Glenorris, serving time at the Rhode Island State prison, has made a voluntary confession in which he asserts that with the assistance of "Little Louisa" Benoit, a gangster by the name of Deponce, and a 'rich young fellow," who was a devil among the ladies at the cabarets, he helped bury Dorothy Arnold in the cellar of a West Point residence in 1911.

This confession was made two weeks ago, but it was repeated this afternoon, following a denial in the morning. Glenorris was sentenced for attempting to extort money from Rev. A. M. Aucock, of All Saints Church, in 1915, following his arrival from New York. He had threatened to blow up the church by the use of a bomb, and was trapped by a decoy letter.

A short time ago he expressed his religion and two weeks ago sent for Chaplain John E. Blake, saying he had something on his mind. Blake called in Warden Davis, to whom he confessed, repeating the confession again this afternoon, Warden Davis being present at the time.

SEGREGATION IN SUPREME COURT

High Tribunal Orders Another Hearing Before "Full Bench"

AWAITING DECISION

Case Under Louisville Order, But Applies to Richmond and Other Virginia Cities.

Washington, D. C., April 18. —The Supreme Court yesterday caused widespread surprise when it announced that the case involving the Louisville segregation ordinance, argued last Friday, had been set for reargument "before the full bench."

The action, rarely taken by the court ,either means that the jurists regard it as of such importance that it should be reviewed again, or that the court is evenly divided on the decision and must await the appointment of a successor to the late Justice Lamar, before a majority opinion is handed down.

The Louisville ordinance, drawn along the lines of the sergregation measures of Richmond, Baltimore, Atlanta and St. Louis, has been attacked as a violation of both the spirit and the letter of the fourteenth amendment to the Federal Constitution. And the decision which will be rendered is expected to support or invalidate the segregation ordinances of the various cities which have sought to bar the negro from certain residential sections.

It was exected that the Supreme Court would act quickly on the appeal following the final argument, and when that body announced today that it was deemed expedient to order a reargument before a full court all interests were taken by surprise.

St. Louis, April 18.—Enforcement of the negro segregation ordinance of St. Louis was enjoined by the Federal District Court here yesterday.

The injunction was granted by District Judge Dyer, who said he made the order temporary only because the Federal court now is considering a segregation case from Louisville, Ky., Otherwise, he said, he would have granted a permanent injunction.

One section of the segregation ordinance prohibits whites or blacks from living in a block in which 75 per cent of the houses are ocupied by persons of the opposite race Another makes similar restrictions, but the percentage is 100, instead of 75.

In announcing his decision, Judge Dyer said:

"The negro is entitled to the same consideration and the same rights as is a white man. The negro doesn't want social equality. He wants the same rights before the law as the white man, and he should have them'.'

BOY KILLED IN COLLISION.

Youthful Motorcyclist Rides Directly Into Automobile.

Philadelphia, April 18. — Losing control of his motorcycle while riding on Spring Garden street near Marshall, Sunday, William Katz, 14 years old, crashed into an automobile driven by Samuel Laveson, Sixth street near Bainbridge, and was instantly killed when his head crashed against the hood of the auto

According to District Detectives Kearse and Titus, young Katz was riding west on Spring Garden street, but for some reason was on the wrong side of the thoroughfare. Laveson, who was going in an opposite direction, seeing the aproach of the motorcyclist, blew the horn of the auto several times, and was dumbfounded when he saw the boy ride directly in the path of the car. It is believed Katz became confused when he saw the auto approach and lost control of his machine when he heard the horn.

HANGED IN PUBLIC SQUARE

Mob Takes Prisoner From Cell While Church Bells Are Ringing

Bonifay, Fla., April 17—Just before the church bells rang for service here Sunday morning a mob stormed the jail, took John Dukes from his cell, carried him to the public square, hanged him to a tree, and then riddled his body with bullets. The body remained hanging for several hours before it was cut down.

Dukes was placed in jail Saturday night for killing S A. Walker. Dukes and Walker were neighbors and prominent. They had quarreled some days ago about a business matter. On Saturday they met on the highway and resumed the quarrel, Dukes finally shooting and killing Walker.

Dukes was hurried here to jail, where it was thought he would be safe. About 9 o'clock yesterday morning, however the mob formed smashed the jail doors, bound the jailer and secured Dukes.

Sheriff Farmer was notified by telephone that the mob was in action and, with Deputy Sheriff ---- started in an automobile for the jail. The sheriff while going at high speed lost control of the automobile, which turned completely over. The sheriff left leg was broken and he was otherwise injured. Deputy Sheriff Harold's right arm was broken in two places.

The auto engine rushed to the scene, but the inflammable nature o fthe house and the stiff northwest wind rendered it difficult to subdue the flames, and the house was practically destroyed.

SUDDEN FLUSHES FATAL.

Pittsburgh, April 18.—Death was the penalty Frank Lasurari paid for holding two straight flushes inside of half an hour in a poker game, Sunday evening. Vincent Drago, is under arrest, accused of stabbing the other man to death.

Lasurari added nothing to his popularity when he won a jackpot with his first straight flush in a game participated in by five players. When he sprung another, a little later, Drago gave vent to his feelings. In the interchange that followed suspicion was cast on the genuineness of Lasurari's remarkable luck.

Both men drew knives. Watched by the other players, they fought desperately. Drago's blade found the other man's heart, while he, with four big cuts on his right arm, was taken to the Allegheny General Hospital by his companions, and after his wounds had been dressed he was lodged in the Allegheny police station.

STATE OFFICIALS AND OUSTER LAW

Attorney General is Asked by Many to Construe Provisions

COURTS MUST DECIDE

Supreme Tribunal Will Declare What is "Work of Necessity" as to Sunday Laws.

Richmond, April 18—"What constitutes a work of necessity?"

This is the burden of letter after letter of inquiry that has been received by Attorney-General Pollard since the passage of the 'ouster" law which goes into effect on June 18.

This statute holds over the heads of police officials and other local or State officers who fail to prosecute infractions of the law, the threat of expulsion from office. It is a law which is at the same time inclusive and drastic and officers the State over are frankly worried.

Section 3799 of the Code provides that if any person be found on the Sabbath Day laboring at any trade or calling, or employing his apprentices or servants in labor or other business "except in household or other work of necessity or charity" he shall forfeit $5 for each offense. Every day of such unlawful labor is to constitute a distinct offense.

Upon the final construction that will be given by the courts to the term "work of necessity" depends in large measure the scope of the ouster law.

In an effort to prepare for the day when the ouster law goes into effect police officials all over the State have applied to the Attorney-General for his opinion as to what the Code means by "work of necessity."

To all inquirers the Attorney-General makes the same answer. In view of the reasonable assumption that the law will ultimately be referred for interpretation to the Supreme Court of Appeals, where, as Attorney-General, it will be his duty to defend it it would be improper for him to undertake to define the scope of the law at this time. This, substantially, is the reply that has been made to the numerous inquiries that Mr. Pollard has received.

In the matter of the delivery of ice cream on Sunday, special provision was made by the last General Assembly. It enacted a law declaring the delivery of ice cream on Sunday when such ice cream has been manutured on some day other than the Sabbath, a "work of necessity." The bill was introduced by Delegate Berryman Green, of Danville, who made a touching plea for the enactment of a law which will enable his city to have ice cream with its Sunday dinner—a delicacy which "blue-stocking" reformers were undertaking to drive from Danville's Sabbath table.

The bill was opposed by Delegate Jones, of South Richmond, who objected that it tended to invade the sanctity of the Sabbath. This led Delegate Leedy, of Page, to challenge the South Richmond lawmaker to the satisfaction of the House that the Sabbath of his terminology was the only true Sabbath. The challenge was not accepted.

In most of the larger cities of the State public opinion has sanctioned the keeping open of soda-water and cigar stands on Sunday. This is notably true in Richmond and Norfolk, where the authorities, have permitted this kind of business to continue on Sunday unmolested. Whether the same policy will be pursued after the ouster law goes into effect is being seriously questioned.

WILL FORCE NEUTRALS

Germany Will Resort to Drastic Means to Accomplish Purpose

Paris, April 17—Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweig's Reichstag address, combined with recent events, shows unmistakably that Germany has definitely adopted the policy of forcing the neutral nations to declare finally for or against her.

Germany must have wheat, rubber, copper, petrol and cotton. She must have ports as bases for her sea operations and coast line and territories which her staff consider indispensable.

If the neutrals do not allow her to obtain there things peacefully she will seize them just as she invaded Belgium. She is now putting a heavy strain on Swiss neutrality by deliberately dropping bombs in Swiss territory. In order to be able to violate Dutch neutrality she accuses England of planning to land troops in Holland.

Neutral newspapers are still flooded with German offers to buy leather, copper, cotton, rubber and petrol and trade with Germany's continental neutral neighbor has reached abnormal proportions.

Secret contraband tarffic is also being carried on through the mails.

But Germany is no longer satisfied with the attempt to supply her needs by these occult ways. She intends to force the neutrals either openly to help her or to suffer invasion.

KILLED IN COLLISION

Five Victims of Accident on New Haven Railroad Last Night.

New Haven, Conn., April 18.— At least five persons were killed, some of them burned beyond recognition, and 30 persons were injured in the collision between the Gilt Edge Express of the New Haven railroad, and a local train at Bradford Station, six miles east of Westerly, R. I., last night.

These revised figures were announced at the New Haven offices here today.

Bradford, R. I., April 18—Fifteen or more persons were reported to have been crushed or burned to death in a collision of trains on the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad here last night. The accident occurred at 7:30 o'clock, and four hours later wrecking and hospital crews had recovered four bodies.

The dead were in the rear car of a four-coach local train bound from Boston to New London, and which had stopped at the local station, when it was run down by the Gilt Edge express bound from Boston for New York.

This coach was telescoped, set afire and burned, The car ahead also took fire, and the flames communicating to the passenger station and freight house destroyed both buildings. A hospital train came here from New London, and Medical Examiner M. H. Scanlon, of Westerly, took charge of the search for the dead and care of the injured.

Among those believed to have been burned to death were Miss Janet Clark, daughter of William Clark, president of the Westerly mill of the American Thread Company, and William Barber, also of Westerly.

Great confusion followed the collision and it was long before a definite idea of the extent of the disaster could be had. As the flames of the burning cars and buildings died out the train yard was left in darkness and those who went to the aid of the injured worked under great difficulties.

Estimates of the dead varied widely and in the absence of a positive official statement the number could not be determined at midnight. At that hour the ruins of the burned cars were still so hot that they could not be thoroughly searched. Four bodies were early removed and a count of those who received emergency medical treatment showed that 35 who escaped death were injured. Several of these would die, it was thought.

New York, April 18.—Vice President Whaley, of the New Haven Railroad, declared shortly before midnight that reports to the effect that 30 or more persons had been burned to death in the wreck at Bradford, R. I. were without foundation.

"We are absolutely positive," he added, "that not more than three persons were killed if that many."

GERMANS AGAIN DRIVEN BACK

Launch Powerful Infantry Attacks Against French Position

CONTEST FOR VERDUN

Teutons Continue to Shell Hill No. 304 and Second Line of Defenses in Locality.

The Germans have launched a powerful infantry attack against the French positions extending from the River Meuse to Douaumont, and again they have been swept back except where they obtained a footing in a small portion of the chauffour wood, by the guns of the French.

The Germans have kept up their heavy shelling of hill No. 304, northwest of Verdun, and the second line of the French in this region, probably with the intention of again throwing their infantry forward in an endeavor to capture these important points—keys to the Verdun position on the west.

Elsewhere on the lines held by the French there have been only bombardments and mining engagements. Numerous German antiaircraft have bombarded French aircraft.

On the British front in Belgium and France, the heavy bombardments by the British and Germans continue unabated. The artillery activity in the sector between St. Eloi and the Ypres-Comines canal has been especially marked.

The Germans have poured shells on the Russian position along the Dvina River at the Ikskull bridgehead, and about Dvinsk and vigorous artillery duels have been in progress in the lake region south of Dvinsk.

In Galicia along the Stripa River the Teutons have made several attempts against Russian trenches, but all of them were repulsed, according to Petrograd.

The big guns on both sides are in action, along most of the Austro Italian front. In the Surgana valley, the Austrians delivered attacks against the Italians from the Larganza torrent to Mont. Collo, but they were everywhere repulsed.

In Asiatic Turkey the Russians on the Black Sea coast have captured the town of Surmeneh, and pushed forther eastward against the retreating Turks to Arsene Kelessi, less than twelve miles from the important fortified town of Trebizond.

STORM IN MARYLAND

Decorations at Crisfield Torn to Shreds—Crops Injured.

Crisfield, Md., April 18.—A furious storm swept over this section of Somerset county yesterday afternoon Hail stones covered the ground. Many windows were broken.

One of the worst features of the storm was the blowing away and tearing into shreds the flags and bunting with which the city had been decorated for the coming of the State council of the Junior Order United American Mechanics, which opened its annual session here today.

At Westover the damage was great The farmers in that section had begun putting their land in order for the early crops, and in some cases early vegetables were well through the ground. Where the men were plowing yesterday morning the fields are completely covered with water, and it is said that it will be some again.

His mother, who saw him tumble from the window as she was cooking dinner, fainted. A CORRECTION.

The item in yesterday's Gazette, describing the daring feat of a young man named Allen in climbing to the weather vane on the City Hall steeple Saturday afternoon brought up reminiscences of other similar performances in that locality. Reference was made to "Chip" Thompson falling from a tight rope at King and Royal streets. It was stated that the accident occurred in 1869. It should have been 1879, according to a note in a scrap book made by the writer at the time, and which date he had in his mind yesterday, but he inverteatly wrote 1869.

FOOD TOO HIGH IN SPAIN.

Country Suffers More Than Any Other Neutral by War Prices

Washington, D. C., April 18—Prices in some parts of Spain, according to consular advices reaching here have been forced so high by the war that many foods ordinarily used by the working classes have been put entirely beyond their reach. The more prosperous, it is declared, are paying 85 per cent more for table articles than formerly. In no other neutral country, it is asserted, has the cost of living risen so sharply.

In southern Spain, the closing down of some industries is said to have added difficulties. Food prices in the South are declared to average 100 per cent. higher than prices in the United States. Since August, 1914, bread in Seville has risen 25 per cent butter, 142 per cent; eggs, 85 per cent; flour, 80 per cent., and meat, 40 to 60 per cent. Imported canned goods are quoted at almost prohibitive prices.

Rents are up 15 to 20 per cent.; coal costs 150 per cent. more than usual, and the cost of gas, electricity and medical supplies has doubled.

TRIED VARIOUS KIDNEY REMEDIES BUT ONLY ONE PROVED RELIABLE

It is with great pleasure that I write these lines of praise for your wonderful kindney and bladder remedy. I had kidney trouble so bad I became very much alarmed. I had tried various kidney remedies I heard of but without relief. I was about discouraged of ever being helped, when, one day I picked up a book containing testimonials of people who had been helped and cured of their kidney trouble by the use of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, so I decided to try it and I know I owe my present good health to the wonderful curative power of Swamp-Root. I sincerely hope my words will be the means of restoring many others sufferers of kidney and bladder troubles to good health.

Very truly yours,
B. J. FENSTERMAKER,
1491 Roycroft Ave, Lakewood, O,

Personally appeared before me this 18th day of October, 1915, B. J. Fenstermaker, who subscribed the above statement and made oath that the same is true in substance and in fact.

GERMANY AND THE UNITED STATES

In one of his earlier notes President Wilson pointed to conditions that would make it for another power to decide whether or not relations should continue between the government of Germany and the United States. The note that is presently to be dispatched will have this tenor. As is suggested by a cotemporary which has studied the question closely, the matters of fact in regard to the Sussex and other cases of submarine outrage are of the clearest, and the denial by Germany of responsibility is founded on such preposterous grounds that the Berlin government cannot impute insult to the United States if it brushes aside the disavowal as of no point. It remains, therefore, for Germany to decide the important question of the future relations of the two countries. In case of breach and continued aggressions, the United States would seize the interned German ships, commercial and war craft and of the value of two hundred millions of dollars. Germany would emerge from the war so much poorer and deprived of the ships without which the upbuilding of its commerce would be projected a full generation into the future. In case of breach of relations and continued acts of aggression by the German submarines the United States would seize all property owned by German citizens to the value of unnumbered millions of dollars. But why sketch the picture in any further detail? Only one thing could induce the Berlin authorities to consent to a breach of relations with the United States that would surely be followed by a state of war—this would be absolute confidence of the success of German arms and ability to include the United States in the countries which would be amerced for war indemnity. Only a dreamer of the most foolhardy type could possibly gamble upon any such prospect. If Verdun should fall, pending the close of negotiations between the United States and Germany, the Berlin government might then become exceedingly stiff with regard to this country's demands and invite a breach. But even under such conditions this attitude would be one of supreme folly. Germany has absolutely nothing to gain and everything to lose by falling out with the United States. All it has to lose by agreement is the abatement of acts of provocation which have no military value and only result in sacrifice of the friendship of the United States. Even if submarine warfare were stopped altogether there would be no loss of consequence to the German cause.

While Germany has nothing to gain by a breach with the United States this country has less to gain and infinitely more to lose. It would lose its peace and its prosperity. It would lose its coveted place as the one great nation apart from the general war. It would lose its opportunity to exert wholesome influence for the ending of the strife. It would lose its opportunity to befriend all the warring powers and to give them substantial pledges of friendship and co-operation in their sad task of recovery from the havoc of war. It would invite possibility of the sacrifices of its men and ships. It would entail expenditure of billions of dollars for war equipment ,and the passing of a more drastic preparedness law than is proposed—in fact, a conscription act. So close are the Germans and Americans in the weave of American life that the social consequences of a breach would be deplorable beyond all description.

There is, therefore, every reason for a breach to be avoided and no reason for the creation of a most deplorable situation. If it comes about it will be through the stubbornness of a German clique and this fact would justify all that has been said against the German military caste.

It is likely that the new note will bring about a real agreement and a full understanding that Germany will honorably live up to. Thus, the clouds that have obscured the skies of American-German friendship will be permanently less threatening.

SALARY INCREASES

Embraced in its program of "rigid economy" the recent legislature provided a substantial increase in the salaries of several State officials, in what seemed to be a plain violation of the law which prohibits the increase of salary during the term for which an official is elected.

The Attorney-General has now ruled that the Auditor must continue to pay the Superintendent of Public Printing, Superintendent of the Penitentiary and Commissioner of Labor the same salary they receive prior to March 1, 1916, till there is a decision by the courts as to the validity of the increase voted to them at the last session of the General Assembly.

The Norfolk Ledger-Dispatch says it is rather remarkable that with so many lawyers in the legislature, the governor, with an attorney general to advise him, and the Legislature Reference Bureau, one of whose functions was said to be to pass on the constitutionality of bills, there should be such frequent questioning as to the merits of measures really not involving any very profound question. When it comes to getting money out of the treasury almost any old way seems worth trying.

PENTECOST OF CALAMITY

(Richmond Times-Dispatch)

Perhaps the most striking passage in Owen Wister's "The Pentecost of Calamity," describes the bewilderment of the German people because the rest of the world does not accept, with gratitude and humanity, German Kultur and all it implies. They do not believe that Louvain was destroyed, they do not believe that the Cathedral of Rheims was shelled, because their officials have told them that neither story is true. These are only two instances; thousands might be related.

It is only on this ground that Americans, who either know Germany, or know many Germans and who, in either case, are familiar with the kindliness, the smypathetic spirit and the love of beauty and art that distinguish individual Germans, are able to understand the apparent unanimity with which the German people press forward in support of the ruthless Prussian policy of frightfulness. It is because they do not know.

For generations now, they have been Prussianized. The doctrine of the Superman has been instilled into their minds from childhood; universities and gymnasiums have exalted the figure of the Kaiser as the vicar of Divine authority, so that when their minds were most impressionable they have been filled with the idea of his infallibility, and have learned to accept as inspired his declaration that he ruled by Divine right.

Now that nation after nation has not only picked up the steel gauntlet but has resisted the crushing hand that wore it, they are confused. They see only a manifestation of their Emperor's righteous will; they see his might advanced by his armies, which seek to spread the light of his great ideas among all people. And when other races oppose arms to arms, intrench themselves and stem the rush of helmeted soldiers of the Kaiser, they see in those actions something worse than lese majeste, something nearer sacrilege. They are puzzled; they cannot understand.

And they are scientifically kept puzzled. Every day, every hour, the vast machinery of Prussia, the complex and inexorable force of which the head is the Hohenzollern, is in action to shape them, their minds and their psirits to conform with the Hohenzollern's plans. Nothing is neglected. Two instances, again, will suffice to show the infinite pains, amounting to genius, with which they are instructed and deceived.

In the New York World recently appeared a French picture which had been doctored for reproduction in Berlin so as to convey a directly contrary impression from that made by the original. That was done by the civilian department of Prussia. The news also contained the report that the Kaiser had decorated three more submarine commanders. It is the work of these submarines that has largely contributed to the world's hatred of Prussia. But that work is the work of Prussia and of the Hohenzollern. So two of these men were given the Hohenzollern Order and the other was decorated with the Prussian Order of Merit.

Of course, the Germans cannot hnderstand. But they will.

THE STARVATION SHOE

(Baltimore American)

England is now admitting that the starvation shoe is being placed on the other foot and the country is beginning to cry out over the discomfort. The submarine attacks upon English shipping have caused the destruction of 950 merchant ships, according to a member of the House of Commons. Mr. Houston, who makes this statement, calls for radical action. England has, doubtless, counted upon the United States to convince Germany of the error of its ways, and so far this country has failed to impress the lesson. As a consequence of these marine disasters nearly one half of the food supplies of England are coming in on neutral vessels. Neutrals are now becoming timid about shipping cargoes with Germany, upon one pretext or another, sinking these neutral ships along with enemy craft.

All the ships of England are needed for naval and for military service and thus the country finds itself cut off from the bottoms that are imperative if England shall not itself be starved in trying to starve out Germany. Since March forty-two British, ten Allied and thirty neutral ships have been sunk, more than 2,200,000 tons.

NEWS OF THE DAY

That the United States can only fight in the interests of humanity as a whole was the basic thought of President Wilson's address of welcome to the delegates to the 25th annual congress of the Daughters of the American Revolution at Memorial Continental Hall, in Washington yesterday.

A ministerial crisis will arise tomorrow on the question of general compulsory military service in Great Britain. David Lloyd George, the minister of munitions, who has been an avowed conscriptionist, is said, to have delivered an ultimatum to his colleagues at yesterday's afternoon's cabinet council that unless they will agree to a scheme of general conscription he will resign.

The report reached Geneva, that the German crown prince had another escape from death or injury recently on the Verdun fornt. Accompanied by his staff and a number of correspondents, he approached within range of a heavy French gun, one of whose shells exploded near the party. It is said several persons were wounded slightly and that others, including Col. Mueller, correspondent of the Barne Bunc, were knocked down.

A French aviator dropped sixteen bombs from an altitude of only 100 yards on the deck of a German warship in the North Sea, the war office announced yesterday. Aviators were active Sunday night on the Verdun front and cast of the fortress, despite the heavy fog. French air squadrons bombarded the railway stations at Conflans, Pagny, Arneville and Rompach. French air flotillas bombarded enemy camps at Strumnitza and Bogantizi Sunday according to a dispatch from Saloniki.

Five men were indicted by the Federal grand jury in New York yesterday charged with having been engaged in the plot in September, 1914, to blow up the Welland Canal in Canada. The men are Franz Von Papan, former military attache at the German Embassy in Washington, recalled and now in Germany; Capt. Hans Tauscher, head of the Krupps agency in America; Alfred A. Fritzen, an agent of Capt. Tauscher; Constantine Govani, an agent of Capt. Tauscher; a fifth man, in whose case the indictment is sealed. His arrest is expected today.

A second strike on the Washington and Old Dominion Railway will be declared this afternoon at 4 o'clock, by the unionized employes if officials of the company refuse, up to that time, to yield to the demands of the carmen. An ultimatum to this effect has been forwarded to officials of the company as a result of action taken at a meeting of the employes last Saturday night. The threatened strike would completely paralyze the railway system, as 300 trainmen, agents telegraphers and other carmen employed by the company are ready to walk out.

Ending a lull of five days, the Germans yesterday attacked with 40,000 men the French front from the Meuse to Douaumont, northeast of Verdun. Their losses were enormous, the massed ranks battering fruitlessly against a "wall of machine gun and barrage fire" except at one point. At this place, south of the Chauffour woods, the Germans succeeded in obtaining a footing in small salient, which projected sharply from the main front. The German loss on the 2 1-2 mile front on which the battle of Verdun was resumed was not less than one-fourth of the troops engaged or 10,000 men.

With plans all laid to draw the American troops out of Mexico the moment it is known positively that Villa is dead or captured, the administration is still awaiting confirmation of the reports from Carranzza forces that the bandit leader's body has been discovered and is being taken to Chihuahua. Notice has been served on the American troops in the vicinity of Parral that another attempt on their part to enter the town will be followed by fresh trouble. Information to this effect was contained in a message received at the War Department last night from Gen. Pershing.

There are persistent peace rumors in financial circles in Holland to the effect that the Austrian government, in consequence of the grave domestic situation, is seriously thinking of abandoning its share in the struggle. In this connection significance is attached to Baron Burian's recent visit to Berlin The most striking fact is the extraordinary effect on the prices of certain securities, also the exchange rates. The course of the latter has shown a remarkable change in an upward direction for all the belligerent countries, and is attributed solely to a belief in the possibility of an early peace.

Harry Gwynn, of Rock Point, Md., was shot and killed on a boat in the Wicomico river Saturday afternoon while in company with three other oystermen. Reynolds Hancock, a member of the party, was arrested by the sheriff of Charles county and is being held in jail at La Plata to await the verdict of the inquest. Turner and John Alvey and Hancock and Gwynn, all young men, left Rock Point in a boat to go to Chaptico, St. Mary's county. It is said they obtained some whiskey. While on the boat they began pushing one another about and finally the play of Hancock and Gwynn led to blows and the death of Gwynn. It is alleged that Hancock fired on Gwynn when he was only 10 feet away.

With the refusal of King Constantine and his cabinet to permit the allies to use the Greek railroads to transport Serbian troops, it develops that Great Britain also asked permission to land Portuguese troops in Greece, but this request met with a refusal, as did demands that the Greek troops withdraw from Santi Quaranta, on the coast of southern Albania, and that the Saloniki postoffice be turned over to the entente. Greece has also refused to let the entente use the Gulf of Corinth. The British occupation of Cephalonda is said to have resulted from the inactivity of Italy, which enabled Germany and Austria to make the Adratic a base of submarine activity imperiling the troop transports on the Mediterranean and the Aegean.

VIRGINIA NEWS

J. Travers Colston, 27 years old, committed suicide yesterday near Swimley, Clarke County, by shooting himself in the right temple with a revolver, The body was found an hour later by his father, Randolph C. Colston, a prominent farmer.

Delegates from many sections of Virginia arrived last night in Richmond for the annual convention of the State Council, Daughters of America, which held its initial session this morning in Murphy's Hotel. Mrs. Floda Reagen, president of the State Council, reached the city in time last night to attend the reception given by the three local councils—Capital City, No. 7; Dove, No. 12; and Pride of Richmond, No. 14—in honor of the visiting delegates and members of the order, National Councilor Webb, of the Junior Order United American Mechanics, delivered the principal address.

That the Rev. George W. McDaniel, D. D., pastor of First Baptist Church in Richmond who Sunday startled his congregation by tendering his resignation at the morning service, does not contemplate taking up another regular pastorate, but is preparing to launch an active religious campaign along lines of his own, is the belief of his friends. It is believed that Pastor McDaniel has for sometime been working out a new and probably entirely unique religious forward movement, of which he himself will be the prime organizer. It is suggested that Dr. McDaniel may begin a series of meetings in various parts of the country after the order of the "Billy" Sunday meetings,

Orange was visited yesterday by a band of gypsies traveling in three automobiles. After pitching their tents just outside the corporation limits, they proceeded to do the town. While telling the fortune of George Knighton, an automobile mechanic, one of the women is alleged to have taken $15 which he had in his vest pocket. Missing the money shortly after her departure, he overtook her and compelled her to return it. The same woman is alleged to have entered the store of John R. Grimes, while the proprietor was counting his cash before depositing it in the bank, and to have departed with $31. Grimes missing the money had her arrested. She denied the theft until she was put in jail, whereupon she returned it. Not wishing to keep her in jail at an expense to the county, she was released, and the gypsy band was escorted across the county line by the sheriff.

MOB LYNCHHES POSTMASTER.

Masked Crowds Takes Vengeance for Killing of Naval Stores Operator.

Chipley, Fla., April 18.—County authorities were working yesterday to discover who was responsible for the lynching Sunday at Vernon, of John Dykes, postmaster of Green Head, Washington county.

Dykes had been arrested charged with killing S. A. Walker, a naval night operator, and was taken Sunday night from the Vernon jail by a mob of masked men, who overpowered the deputy in charge.

TREE YIELDS AGED BRANDY

Can elieved at Least Seventy Years Old Found in Roots

Woodland, Del., April 18.—Twelve-year-old peach brandy is highly prized in Delaware, so the joy of Arthur Massey, a Woodland farmer, can be imagined when he discovered a can of peach brandy supposed to be 70 or more years old where it had been buried for many years. Massey was digging up an apple tree on his farm when he found, wrapped in the roots of the tree, a glass can filled with brandy and with a peach in it. The can was wrapped in tin and the roots of the tree had grown around it.

The peach was as firm as the day it was picked and it is said by those who tasted the brandy that it was finer than the morning dew. Massey has both the peach and the can of brandy on exhibition, but he promises no more tastes. The apple tree is known to be at least 70 years old.

BLASTS OF GASOLINE KILLS

Shatters Railroad Handcar and Slays Foreman of Laborers

Salisbury, Md., April 18—T. W. Robinson, track forema nat Exmore, Va., was killed and four laborers injured, one of them seriously, when the gasoline engine of the handcar with which the gang was going to work exploded yesterday morning at Painter, a few miles north of Exmore. Robinson lost one ear and a large hole was blown in his head. A laborer named Charles Mears was seriously cut and bruised on the head but the other three laborers were only slightly injured.

Robinson and Mears were rushed to this city and taken to the Peninsula General Hospital where Robinson died last night. Mears is not expected to live. The handcar was blown to pieces. Robinson leaves a wife and three children.

PRICE OF GASOLINE.

The Fear of 40 cents by June 1st. Well Founded.

Philadelphia, April 18—When Representative Howard, of Georgia in the House of Representatives, the other day, declared that present indications pointed to 40 cent gasoline, by June 1, he was expressing no idle fear. His information, according to his own words, came from the Secretary of Commerce and the Secretary of Commerce found it out when he was attempting to renew a gasoline contract between his department and the refiners. They demand 40 cents a gallon, and the Government halted the negotiations until it could find out whether the refiners were joking. Apparently they are not.

ONE DIES IN LOVE TRAGEDY.

Sweetheart is Vitally Wounded and Admirer a Suicide.

Lancanster, Pa., April 18.— John Singley, 28, of Manheim, fatally wounded his sweetheart, Emma Schoenberger, 20, of Lititz, at the young woman's home early last night and then sent a bullet through his own head, dying instantly. Jealousy was ascribed as the motive.

Singley called at the young woman's home, and when she came to the door he said: "I've got a present for you."

When Miss Schoenberger extended her hand for the "package" Singley fired two bullets below her heart. Her condition is critical.

It is more durable than most paints or lead and oil mixed by hand in the old fashioned way. Get a can and try it! Paint your house with it! It won't require much. See sample card for shades.

KINKY HAIR

Atlanta, Ga.
Exelento Med. Co.
Gentlemen.
My picture shows you what your fine
EXELENTO QUININE POMADE
has done for my hair. Before I used it, my hair was short and coarse, and now it is 24 inches long, and so soft and silky that I can do it up any way I want to.
CELIA GREER.
Yours truly.

Don't let some fake Kink Remover fool you. You really can't straighten your hair until it's nice and long. That's what does, removes Dandruff, feeds the Roots of the hair, and makes it grow long, soft and silky. After using a few times you can tell the difference, and after a little while it will be so pretty and long that you can fix it up to suit you. If Exelento don't do as we claim, we will give your money back. 25c by mail on receipt of stamps or coin.
